

Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry
Ballou Scholarship Honoring John C. Cothran
Application Form

Return the form and attachments to the Department office, Chemistry 246. Deadline is March 4, 2016, no later than 4:30p.m. LATE APPLICATIONS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED!

Dr. Nathan Ballou and his wife Elaine established this scholarship in 2007. Dr. Ballou received his BS in Chemistry from the Duluth State Teachers College in 1941 and is known for his work on the Manhattan Project creating material for the atomic bomb. Dr. Ballou was inducted into the SCSE Academy of Science and Engineering in 2007.

Please use this form to apply for the Ballou Scholarship Honoring John C. Cothran. The scholarship is a monetary award.

Requirements:

- Chemistry or Biochemistry And Molecular Biology major
- Good academic standing (GPA 3.0 or higher)
- Completed four semesters of college chemistry courses
- Junior or senior in the fall when the award starts
- Planning to attend graduate school

Name: _____ UMD ID: _____

Address: _____

Phone: () _____ Email address: _____

Major(s) _____ GPA: _____

Expected graduation date (month and year) _____

Attach:

- A statement of your academic plans and career goals. Please address your interest in attending graduate school.
- An unofficial transcript from UMD (if most of your credits are from UMD) or a current unofficial UMD transcript and transcript from the institution where most of your credits were earned.