Live Chat / Final Exam . . .

Don't forget the live chat tonight to review for the Final Exam. Students have found the live chat to be both fun and informative. If you don't have any specific question(s) just tune in and "lurk" . . . .

Live chat session, Tuesday, 18 December 2012, from 8:00 - 9:00 CDT to Review for Final Exam
<<https://moodle2.umn.edu/mod/chat/view.php?id=229661>>

Join the live chat via the “Week 16 Activities” Moodle listing or the link above.

The Final Exam:

- The final exam will be cumulative, with emphasis on Chs. 12 -15 of the text, in-class videos / film, important e-mails, Forum posts, assigned web materials and lectures.
- Text Assignments Summary for Weeks 11 - 15

Understanding Humans, 11th Ed., p. v

- There will be 60 multiple choice / true-false type questions
- You may, if you wish, take an essay exam. See optional essay exam information below
- Review sample multiple-choice exam / exam questions, or sample essay exam / exam questions

- Check your grade on the web on moodle. Use "The Curve" to figure out your letter grade
- Text Resources from the Publisher
- UMD Final Exam Policy

When you take a multiple choice exam you must correctly put your name and ID number on both the computer generated questions sheet and on the answer sheet! If the Computing Services staff must correct and ID which you miscoded, four points will be subtracted from your score on that exam. If you do not have your name and correct ID number on both sheets it may be impossible to correct your exam. If your exam cannot be corrected because of the absence of this information, you may be required to repeat the examination.

If you do not have much experience taking essay exams you should definitely have a look at what the Purdue University OWL has to say. The OWL’s advice is short, and helpful.

As usual, if you have any questions, please let me know: <mailto:troufs@d.umn.edu>, or better yet, check in with your questions on the live chat tonight.

Best Regards and Wishes—and Good Luck on the Exam,

I hope to “see” you at 8:00 tonight—and, of course, for the Exam tomorrow.
