Peoples and Cultures of Europe Week 3

"Master Texts and 'Classics'"

This week in class we'll continue to have a look at the basic analytical, theoretical, methodological and historical frameworks for the course, and begin exploring “master texts” and classics in the field.

Whether you're taking notes, watching the videos, or reading the text and related materials, keep in mind that the exams are open-book tests—so bear in mind that you do not have to memorize a lot of names, dates, and isolated facts. Familiarize yourself with the materials, but don't spend too much time trying to commit the details to memory.

(If you haven't read the materials about the Peoples and Cultures of Europe exams yet, it might be a good idea to do that before too long. You can find the information on the midterm exam at http://www.d.umn.edu/cla/faculty/troufs/anth3635/ceexams_midterm.html.)

For this week—for the entire semester, for that matter—focus on the ideas and main concepts and differing points of view.

Be sure to check the details of the activities and assignments of the week on your Moodle HomePage. This week take the Selective Attention Tests in Preparation for Watching Video Series, and Our Later Discussion of Perception. (Be sure to take both tests.)
