It will be a great week as the fruits of your labors continue to be revealed. I'm looking forward to seeing the results what you have been thinking about and working on for the semester.

Don't miss the presentations as there will be at least one question in the pool of Final Exam questions asking you to compare your presentation with the presentations of three others.

If you are still working on your presentation, don't forget about the useful information at <http://www.d.umn.edu/cla/faculty/troufs/anth3635/cepresentations.html#title>.

REM: Please upload your Presentation audiovisual file (if you have one) at least one hour before class.

As I mentioned last week, Hungary is another of those countries with very distinctive, interesting, and beautiful characteristics. And Hungary, with the Danube running its length, is one of the most beautiful—the country and the people. If you haven't read Sárkány Mihály's, a Hungarian economic anthropologist, short piece on Cultural Anthropology in Central and Eastern Europe, "Cultural and Social Anthropology in Central and Eastern Europe," please do so.
