TWEED MUSEUM
EXHIBITS
"Brave, Strong, True: Selections from the Potlatch Collection of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Illustrations" will be on display through Sept. 12.
"Gilbert Munger: Niagara Falls" opens September 14 and continues through December. The exhibition, "You and Yours: A Curatorial Project on the Theme of Family" by Patricia Briggs will be on display through Oct. 17.
"Form and Surface: Selections from the Glenn C. Nelson Collection" will be on display through Nov. 7.
"Variations on a Theme" will be on display through December.
"Entertaining the Gods: Yarn Paintings of the Mexican Huichol" will be on display through Dec. 20. This exhibit showcases various symbolic paintings made with colorful strands of yarn by native Huichol (WEE-chol) people of Mexico. Bright, bold and joyful, they originally functioned as aids to spiritual leaders, as they communicated between the Gods of the Huichol peyote religion and earthly life.
"Our Own State Fair: Artists of Minnesota from the TMA Collection" will continue through Feb. 13.
"In 3D: Selections From the Collection" will continue through March 25. Works from the Richard and Dorothy Rawlings Nelson Collection of American Indian Art continues at the Tweed.
Student shows will be featured throughout the year: Andrew Nagahashi from Sept. 7-12, Laramie Carlson from Sept. 14-19, Adam Rosenthal from Sept. 21-26 and Alexander Hanson from Sept. 28-Oct.
For Tweed Museum information, go to http://www.d.umn.edu/tma, contact tma@d.umn.edu or call 218-726-8222.

EVENTS, lectures, workshops

LSBE EVENTS

Bestselling author and one of America's most popular business speakers, Harvey Mackay will give a presentation on Wed., Sept. 8 at 12 pm in Weber Music Hall called "Use your Head to Get Your Foot in the Door – Job Search Secrets No One Else Will Tell You." All attendees receive a free copy of Mackay's new book, Use Your Head to Get Your Foot in the Door.

Mackay is the author of the New York Times #1 best-sellers Swim With The Sharks Without Being Eaten Alive and Beware the Naked Man Who Offers You His Shirt. Both books are among the top 15 inspirational business books of all time, according to the New York Times. Mackay’s books have sold 10 million copies worldwide, been translated into 37 languages and sold in 80 countries. Toastmasters International also named him one of the top five speakers in the world. To register, visit https://lsbe.d.umn.edu/.

"Internet Advertising: Effective Outreach to Target Audiences" with Marty Weintraub and Manny Rivas from aimClear will be presented at 3 pm on Fri., Sept. 17, in the Weber Music Hall.

Weintraub and Rivas will explain the tools that build internet success: pay per click, search engine optimization, online marketing, using social media, technical audits, reputation monitoring, and driving traffic. What works, what doesn't, and why will be their focus. Rivas is a 2008 graduate of the Labovitz School of Business and Economics. Refreshments follow the presentation. Sponsored by UMD Labovitz School of Business and Economics, UMD Communicators Council, UM Communicators Forum, and The American Advertising Federation Duluth/Superior. For information contact 218-726-8996 or creitan@d.umn.edu.

BIOLOGY EVENTS

Al Mensinger, Department of Biology, presents "Alongshore movement and growth of the invasive round goby (Apollonia melanostoma) in the Duluth-Superior Harbor by individual mark-recapture" on Fri., Sept. 10 at 3 pm in LSci 185. For info, contact biol@d.umn.edu.

GEOLOGY EVENTS

David McGee, post doctoral associate, University of Minnesota TC, will present "New insights into late Pleistocene hydrological changes in the Bonneville Basin, Utah, from lake and cave records" on Thurs., Sept. 16 in LSci 175 at 3:30 pm.

Shoufa Lin, professor of structural geology & tectonics, University of Waterloo, will present "Synchronous vertical and horizontal tectonism in the Neoarchean and implications for gold mineralization: evidence from the Superior craton" on Thurs., Sept. 23 in LSci 175 at 3:30 pm.

Mike Berndt, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Division of Lands and Minerals, will present "Sulfur and oxygen isotope composition of dissolved sulfate in the St. Louis River watershed, North East Minnesota" on Thurs. Oct. 7 in LSci 175 at 3:30 pm. For info, contact geol@d.umn.edu.

VISUAL LECTURE SERIES

Angélica J. Afanador Pujol, a scholar of Pre-Columbian and Early Colonial Art of the Americas, will speak at 6 pm on Thurs., Sept. 23, in 70 Montague Hall. Her courses explore a variety of media (ceramics, murals, prints, architecture, and manuscript illuminations) to understand how the indigenous people of the Americas have represented themselves and been represented by others. In her current research project, The Politics of Ethnicity: Re-imagining Indigenous Identities in The Sixteenth-Century Relación de Michoacán (1538-1541), she explores how artists from Michoacán manipulated the ethnic identities of their indigenous rulers in images to maintain their social status in the new colonial order. For information contact the Department of Art and Design, 218-726-8225.

ALWORTH INSTITUTE EVENTS

"Life with the Maasai Tribe of Tanzania," a brown bag lunch with John Kowalczyk, Professor of Public Health and Program Coordinator, First Year Experience & Students in Transition will be held On Thurs. Sept. 30, at 12 pm in the Library Rotunda.

"On the Ground: U.S. Policy in Afghanistan, Pakistan and Iraq" an Alworth Lecture with Thomas Hanson, former U.S. Foreign Service Officer and Alworth Institute Diplomat in Residence will be held on Wed., Oct. 6 at 7 pm in the Library Rotunda.

"Pura Vida: Costa Rica Discovered," a brown bag lunch with Deborah Good, an International Brown Bag student personnel coordinator, UMD International Education Office, will be held on Thurs. Oct. 7 at 12 pm in the Library Rotunda.

For info, visit: http://www.d.umn.edu/alworth.
HEAD START AND CIVIL RIGHTS

Zelma Williams Croom will give a presentation about establishing the first kindergarten and the first Head Start program for black families in Holmes County, Mississippi beginning in 1964. The event, "Head Start and Civil Rights: Educating Children in 1960s Mississippi," will be held on Thurs., Sept. 30. The reception will begin at 5:30 pm, and the presentation will start at 6 pm in Griggs Center. Croom, now from Cleveland, Ohio, was among the first group of local young adults who became staff at the Holmes County Community Center at Mileston. The teachers were recruited by Civil Rights Movement outside workers, Sue [Lorenzi] Sojourner now of Duluth and her activist husband. The early lives of Croom and the other teachers were framed by poverty, abuse, and Jim Crow laws. Croom became a leader in the Civil Rights Movement battling for Head Start, voting rights, and school integration. She has remained an activist ever since. This event is sponsored by the Education Department and African American Student Services. For info contact: 218-726-6236, dmccarth@d.umn.edu or 218-726-8996, creitan@d.umn.edu.

EDWIN EDDY LECTURE

The Eddy lecture, "Clinical Ethics and Decision-Making in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology," presented by Helen Sharp, Ph.D., CCC-SLP will be held on Sat., Oct. 2 from 8:30 am-4 pm in Bohannon Hall 90.

This lecture will focus on the application of biomedical ethics to the practice of speech-language pathology and audiology. The goal of this discussion is to provide participants with the tools to think through clinical ethical decision-making around such issues as informed consent and refusal of treatment; assessment of patient/client capacity to participate in decision-making; and how decisions are made when the patient/client is unable to make decisions including application of advance directives; and the issues specific to decision-making for children. For info, contact Jena Gordon at gordo244@d.umn.edu.

BOULDER LAKE EVENTS

Fall Wildflowers with Larry Weber will be held Sept. 7 from 7-8 pm.

Volunteers are needed for the Shoreline Restoration Planting around Boulder Lake ELC during Sept. 15-16 anytime between 8 am-4:30 pm.

The Fifth Annual Agate Festival will be held Sat., Oct. 9 from 1-3:30 pm.

All events require pre-registration. For information visit www.boulderlake.org, email jdgeissl@d.umn.edu or call at 218-721-3731.

PLANETARIUM

The Marshall W. Alworth Planetarium holds free public shows at the planetarium every Wed. and Fri. evening at 7 pm.

Private shows are available by appointment for groups of 10 or more. See list of shows at http://www.d.umn.edu/planet/programs.

special EVENTS

FAST-A-THON

The Muslim Student Association (MSA) is holding a fundraiser, a Fast-a-Thon, to raise money for the flood victims of Pakistan. Participants are invited to fast for about 14 hours on Thurs., Sept. 9, from 5:12 am to 7:32 pm. The fast falls on the last day of Ramadan, and the event will end with a party and a feast in the Kirby Ballroom. The evening festivities will begin at 6:30 pm, and the meal will begin at 7:32 pm. For information about donating to UNICEF's flood victim relief program or taking part in the fast, see: http://www.d.umn.edu/~msa/Events.html.

COACH OF THE YEAR VOTING BEGINS

The Liberty Mutual Football Coach of the Year Contest, the only contest that recognizes coaching excellence both on and off the field, begins September 14! UMD Coach Bob Nielson came very close last year and will be a favorite again this season. Four coaches will be awarded $50,000 for charity and $20,000 for their alumni associations. NEW this year: an additional $10,000 prize awarded to the alumni association that rallies the most votes for their coach, win or lose. Remember to vote for Bob every day from Sept. 14-Dec. 4 at http://www.coachoftheyear.com.

MARKET DAY IN THE PLAZA

UMD Market Day in the Plaza is held every Wed. through Sept. 29 from 1:30-4:30 pm, rain or shine, and features a farmer’s market, live music, and artist booths. UMD Stores offers specials during the Market that include 1/2-price fountain pop and hot beverages and 20% off one regularly priced item when using the black UMD reusable bags. (Some exclusions apply.) Visit www.umdstores.com for weekly Market Day updates and music line-up.

Upcoming live music include Bryan Olds, Tim Kaiser, Michael Monroe, and Aurora Baer.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES FAIR

The Fall Student Activities Fair will be held Thurs., Sept. 9 from 11 am-2 pm on the Kirby Terrace (rain site is the Kirby Ballroom and Rafters). The Student Activities
Fair will feature 100+ student organizations that are active at UMD – approximately half of the 200+ total student groups on campus. The fair is open to all students, faculty, and staff. Free hot dogs & chips will also be served over lunch (while supplies last). Questions can be directed to the Kirby student traditions manager, Lacey, at kirbyint@d.umn.edu.

GLENSHEEN

The historic Congdon estate, Glensheen mansion, is open for tours daily from 9:30 am-4 pm. For more information and prices for events, visit http://www.d.umn.edu/glen/, call 218-726-8910, or email glen@d.umn.edu.

GIS EXPANDS

The UMD Geography Information Science program is expanding. Beginning in fall 2010, a GIScience minor and GIScience certificate will be offered. Five new courses were created to round out a strong curriculum in geospatial technologies: Multimedia, Animated and Internet Mapping; GIS in Urban Analysis; GIS in Regional Sustainability Applications; Digital Image Processing and Analysis; and Spatial Statistics. The program builds on this core by exploring both traditional and novel methods for geo-visualization. For more information contact Olaf Kuhlke, geography department chair, at okulhke@d.umn.edu, geog@d.umn.edu, or 218-726-6300.

LLO HOSTS INT’L WORKSHOP

The Large Lakes Observatory (LLO) will host a workshop on campus Oct. 24-26, entitled “Water Sustainability and Climate in the Great Lakes Region of East Africa.” The workshop is funded through a grant from the National Science Foundation. An interdisciplinary team of aquatic, climate, and hydrological scientists and engineers, and social scientists from UMD, UMTC, other American universities, NOAA, the University of Malawi, and the University of Mzuzu are meeting to formulate a major research initiative, designed to assess the impact of climate change and human activity on water sustainability in the East African Rift Valley. This is the first of two meetings for the research team. The second will be held in Malawi in January 2011.

FACULTY/STAFF PHOTOS

Two dates have been set for UMD faculty and staff or others in need of a photo. Please see UMD photographer Brett Groehler in 302 Darland Administration Building on the following days: Wed. Sept. 8 from 10 am-noon.; Thurs., Sept. 9 from 2-4 p.m.

No appointment is necessary during these times. Ask departments if photos are needed and for what purpose. Bring billing information and the name(s) of the person to whom the photos will be sent. There is a small charge for this service. For information, contact Brett Groehler at bgroehle@d.umn.edu or call 218-726-7115.

DRAGON BOAT RACES

Two UMD teams placed first in their divisions in the Lake Superior Dragon Boat Races at Barker’s Island on Aug. 28.

The Women’s Hockey team, sponsored by the Duluth Teacher’s Credit Union, placed first in the All Female Challenge Class and sixth overall.

The UMD Bulldogs, a team of faculty and staff sponsored by the UMD Chancellor’s Office, placed first in the Education Challenge Class and 37th overall.

REC SPORTS PASSES

Semester and annual passes for facility and group fitness classes are on sale now in SpHC 153 and can be put on payroll deduction. The Annual Facilities Pass is $180, and the Annual Group Fitness Pass is $125. If you are not already enrolled in the Fitness Rewards Reimbursement Program, you may do so by logging on to http://www.umdrsop.org. Call the Rec Sports Department at 218-726-7128 for more info or visit http://www.umdrsop.org/.

ITSS NEWS

ITSS has completed installation of classroom control devices in all UMD general-purpose classrooms. These devices make it easy for faculty members to connect their laptops to the various devices in the room, such as projectors and DVD players.

ITSS staff provided networking support for the Tall Ships Festival at Bayfront Park this summer. Working with a local vendor, the network included a wireless link from campus to Bayfront. This network enabled ticket sales as well as UMD goods on location.

ITSS and Housing collaborated last spring to survey students about their technology needs. The survey showed a minimal need for land-line telephones and a strong desire for wireless networking in Housing. The resulting plan calls for removal of land-line telephones and addition of wireless access points throughout Housing. Working through the summer, ITSS and FM staff installed wireless access points in all campus apartments. During the next two years, we will do the same in the residence hall units.

UMD STORES

A Brighter UMD Energy Event will be held Sept. 16-28 in UMD Stores Express. CFL light bulbs, desk lamps, table lamps, floor lamps, and more are specially priced through Minnesota Power to save energy and money. Minnesota Power will make a donation to the U-Pass Program for every product purchased through Oct. 31.

Shoppers support local charities (Safe Haven Shelter for Battered Women, UMD Office of Sustainability, and the COMPASS after-school program at the YMCA), when they don’t take a plastic bag through the UMD Stores “Wooden Nickel Program.” Reusable bags and back packs are available for purchase at UMD Stores and plastic bag recycling containers are located at each entrance.

KUMD NEWS

KUMD presents the Fall Membership Drive from Sept. 24 - Oct. 3. All staff, students, and faculty are welcome to join the community in volunteering to answer phones at this crucial time. The event involves lots of people, food, and fun. Email Ira at isalmela@kumd.org to receive information about a short orientation during the week of Sept. 20.

faculty/staff NEWS

Alison Aune, associate professor, Art and Design, and area chair art education/museum education, will have a solo exhibition at the Scandinavian Cultural Center at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash. from Sept. 14-Nov.14. The exhibit, "Dékorglädje: Minnesota-Swedish Paintings," is co-sponsored by an Imagine Grant from the University of Minnesota.

Gloria DeFilipps Brush, professor, Department of Art and Design, had work in the invitational "Postcards from the Edge" exhibition and AIDS benefit auction in Jan. 2010 at the ZieherSmith Gallery in New York.

Her work also was selected for the exhibition "Photos with Words," sponsored by the Vermont Photography Workshop in Middlebury, VT by juror Liz Lee, professor of Photography and New Media at SUNY-Fredonia. Brush's work began an online presence in June 2010 and was published in July in a book featuring the work of all photographers in the show.

Dalibor Froncek, professor, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, presented a talk “Rectangular Table Negotiation Problem Revisited” at the conference Combinatorics 2010 in Verbania, Italy.

Vicki Hansen, professor, Department of Geological Sciences, was quoted as a source in Nature magazine in an article about the Venus crater debate.

John Hiller, professor, and Sophia Chabysheva, Research Fellow, Physics Department, recently published "Nonperturbative Pauli-Villars regularization of vacuum polarization in light-front QED" in volume 82 of Physical Review D. The grant from the Department of Energy that supported this work, with Hiller as PI, has been renewed for $135,000 over the next three years.

Keith Lodge, associate professor in the Department of Chemical Engineering, presented a poster entitled "Evidence for Self-Association of Nonionic and Other Organic Solutes in Liquid Phases Comprising 1-Octanol and Water" at the 14th International Symposium on Solubility Phenomena & Related Equilibrium Phenomena at Montanuniversität, Leoben, Austria, July 25-30. The coauthor was Ebenezer Egyepong, a former graduate student in chemistry.

John Pastor, professor, Department of Biology, will receive an Honorary Doctorate from the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences in Uppsala, Sweden in October 2010. As his commendation letter says, his research "focused on complex interactions in the boreal forest, especially studied through field experiments and modeling." And, "for more than ten years [Pastor] closely collaborated with the Faculty of Forest Sciences at the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences. [He] has published many highly cited papers in the area of soil ecology, but also on plant-animal interactions."
Yongcheng Qi, associate professor, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, gave a talk “Empirical likelihood methods for heavy-tailed distributions” as a keynote speaker in the First Chinese Workshop on Heavy-tailed Models and Applications, June 26-27, Nanjing Normal University, Nanjing, China. He also presented his research paper “A modified likelihood method for generalized Pareto distributions” in the Fourth International Forum on Statistics and Society, July 10-12, Renmin University of China, Beijing. In August, Qi received a grant from National Science Foundation (NSF). This NSF grant in Statistics was awarded to support a three-year project that aims to develop new empirical likelihood methods for statistical inferences with nonlinear constraints.

Andrea Schokker, head, Department of Civil Engineering, is a co-PI on a $1.2 million project recently awarded by the National Science Foundation. The project is a joint effort with Iowa State and the University of Minnesota TC and also includes collaboration with researchers in Japan and New Zealand. The title of the award is "Unbonded Post-Tensioned Rocking Walls for Seismic Resilient Structures," and the research will focus on development of innovative wall systems that are resilient under earthquake forces. Testing will begin in Dec. in the new Swenson Civil Engineering Building.

Viktor Zhdankin, professor, Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, received a national award of the American Chemical Society, the ACS Award for Creative Research and Applications of Iodine Chemistry, that is given to researchers who have performed outstanding and creative research related to iodine chemistry or its applications. He will be honored at the Awards Ceremony on Tues., March 29, 2011, in conjunction with the 241st ACS national meeting in Anaheim, CA.

NRRI NEWS

Subhash Basak, Jose Luis Villaveces (Universidad de los Andes, Colombia), and Guillermo Restrepo (Universidad de Pamplona, Colombia) chaired an eight day, two-part mathematical chemistry workshop titled, “The Second Mathematical Chemistry Workshop of the Americas,” held in Bogata and Pamplona, Columbia on August 19-27. Scientists and scholars from Asia, Europe, North America, and South America participated in the workshop.

Basak gave the following presentations and lectures at the workshop:

Welcome and description of the history and evolution of the three sets of mathematical chemistry workshops organized by NRRI in collaboration with various institutions worldwide, beginning with the First Indo-U.S. Workshop on Mathematical Chemistry, organized on the campus of Visva Bharati University, Santiniketan, West Bengal, India, in 1998.

“Predicting bioactivity and toxicity of chemicals from mathematical descriptors,” “On the nature of mathematical chemistry” at a panel discussion titled “Chemomathematical core of Mathematical Chemistry,” “Advancing frontiers and continuum of chem-bioinformatics” at a panel discussion session titled “Mathematical Chemistry in touch with ‘Omics,” “Mathematical Chemistry: A futuristic view,” and “In silico approach to drug discovery using mathematical descriptors.”

Two NRRI staff members gave seminar talks at the 21st International Diatom Symposium in St. Paul, Minn., held August 29-September 3.

Euan Reavie, presented “An experimental ‘state of the lakes’ diatom indictor for the pelagic Great Lakes.”

Amy Kireta, Euan Reavie and Gerald Sgro (John Carroll University, Ohio) presented “Diatom indicators of disturbance in U.S. Great Rivers.”

MEDICAL SCHOOL-DULUTH NEWS

Kendall B. Wallace, professor of biochemistry & molecular biology and director of the Toxicology Graduate Program has been appointed to the Medical Expert Panel of the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (VICP) of the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Wallace has been appointed as a medical expert for mitochondrial disorders and metabolic disease.

Duluth medical student Anya Gybina, the first student to receive the Nancy I. English, M.D., Scholarship in 2010, ran in the Dr. Nancy English Memorial 5K Walk/Run – a memorial to UMD Medical School alumna Dr. Nancy I. English who died suddenly in 2008.

Forty Class of 2011 medical students have been elected by their peers to the Gold Humanism Honor Society and eight of them started their medical education in Duluth.
A workshop for medical educators called "Beyond Curricular Reform: Creating a Safe, Natural Critical Learning Environment" will be broadcast to room 146-8 Med Duluth on Wed., Sept. 8 from 7:30-9 am. The presenter, Jeanette Norden, is a professor and director of Medical Education in the Department of Cell and Developmental Biology in the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine.

Nationally recognized experts in indigenous health research will gather for the first Duluth Medical Research Institute Minnesota Indigenous Health Research Symposium on Mon., Sept. 27 from 8:30 am-5 pm. This all-day symposium will focus on community-based participatory health research with North American indigenous (e.g., American Indian/Alaska Native/First Nations) communities.

PHARMACY NEWS

Bjoern Bauer, assistant professor, has been appointed to the Editorial Advisory Board of the Journal of Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics.

Paul Ranelli, professor, accepted an invitation to join the SMDC-Miller-Dwan Behavioral Health Visioning Committee as a community/parent member. Previously, he served on SMDC's patient and family-centered care group aligned with Duluth Children's. That group was helpful in a number of areas including encouraging the inclusion of pharmacists to be part of the healthcare home team.

Debbie Sisson, assistant professor, has been invited to serve as a member of the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP) Section Advisory Group on Small and Rural Hospitals.

Marcia Worley, associate professor and associate department head, has been elected chair elect of the Economics, Social and Administrative Science (ESAS) Section of the American Pharmacists Association (APhA).

Several College of Pharmacy faculty and colleagues have been asked to participate in the next season of the PBS eight television production “Doctors on Call.” The invitation is due, in part, to the success of interprofessional activities and MTM practice sites. The tentative schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 30-Heart Disease (Megan Undeberg, assistant professor); Oct.14-Infectious Disease/Immunizations (Keri Naglosky, assistant professor); Nov. 18-HTN (Mike Swanoski, assistant professor); Jan. 6-Diabetes (Audrey Imberg, SMDC-Duluth Clinic pharmacist); and Feb. 10-Allergies and Skin (Tim Cernohous, graduate student).
