Plate 1. Structural and geologic map of the study area with all material units and structures mapped. Spatial and temporal relationships within domains and across the study area are explained in detail in the map relations section.