Digital Art Workshop for Youth

This 5 session afterschool digital art workshop will introduce youth to a variety of animation techniques that can be used to tell digital stories. Participants will learn how to create original imagery with tools such as digital cameras and photoshop software. Experimental animation materials like clay, sand, and other stop-motion techniques will be explored. The media arts elements of space, time, light, motion, color and sound will be integrated to generate a unique digital story spun from a well-known tale.

Digital Art Workshop is team taught by

Art + Design faculty, Joellyn Rock and UMD Art Education majors

Open to youth ages 10 through 14

Running Oct 13 through Nov 10

Tuesdays from 4:00 pm to 5:45 pm

Cost: $50 for 5 week session

Register via UMD Fine Arts Academy
