Tweed museum of art

ART and ENVIRONMENT

activity 29

university of minnesota duluth

www.d.umn.edu/tma/
Anna Vaughn Hyatt Huntington also loved animals and spent much of her time at the Bronx Zoo sketching the animals she saw. Later, Anna and her husband purchased an estate in South Carolina and built their own zoo where Anna and her artist friends could draw, paint, and sculpt whenever they wanted.

Create your own sculpture of a horse. Try to capture the movement of the horse.
1. Have a grown-up pound in a nail to a piece of wood.
2. Twist strong wire to create the shape of your horse.
3. Cover with paper mache (mix together flour and water and apply mixture to newspaper)
4. When dry, paint using bronze colored acrylic paint.