Tweed museum of art

50

PEOPLE AND PLACES

activity 14

university of minnesota duluth

www.d.umn.edu/tma/
We’ve arrived in West Africa. Masks in Africa have been used for a long time in ceremonies and celebrations.

The Baule in Côte d’Ivoire use masks to communicate with spirits who can help and guide them in their lives.

Have you ever worn a mask?

How does it feel to wear a mask?

How do you think it would feel to wear this mask? ________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________

How do you think the artist created it? ________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________