This table shows that there is a positive correlation between interest in online dating and familiarity with online which is a positive 18.4% and we know that this is significant because the significance of .001 is less than .05.

This table shows that there is a positive correlation between importance of members passing criminal background checks and interested in having a bodyguard or escort present on the first date, it is a positive correlation of 46.2% and we know that it is significant because the significance level is .000 which is less than .05.