Finishing the Wrapping Up

This week we finish the wrap up of the course, except, of course, for the Final Exam which is next week. The other main event this week, besides reviewing for the Final Exam, is having a look at your colleagues' Presentations. Yes, this week we get to see the crown jewels of the semester—your presentations.

This semester UMD designated Wednesday to Friday of this week as official Study Days. Make good use of them.

And we have two live chats to announce, one is at 7:00 p.m. this Tuesday, and there will also be one on Tuesday during the exams. They are both handy times to ask questions about the Final Exam. But if that time is not convenient, e-mail. . . .

Study Questions for the Final Exam are available on-line at https://canvas.umn.edu/courses/209315/discussion_topics/921226  s2021.

And to conclude the week, take a couple of minutes to look at the World Clock that The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) is tracking. Food, Climate Change, Worldwide Water Problems, Immigration are all important things to keep track of when you're looking at European cultures and cultures around the world.

Video materials used in class illustrate many topics covered in this course. Consider these presentations similar to lab sessions, that is, watch them carefully and critically rather than simply watch another movie or video. The exams will include these materials, and it will be assumed that you have paid critical attention to them.

Course Survey

(from IT)

The friendly folks from Information Technology Systems & Services will be sending you an Invitation and a Reminder to Participate in an online Course Evaluation.

Evaluations are important to me, the Department Head, and the Dean, as well as everyone in our Department.

Please fill the online Course Evaluation out carefully.

Evaluations are anonymous, and will not be seen by the instructor until final grades for this course have been recorded.

Thanks,

Tim Roufs
