“Sunday Memos”

The “Sunday Memos” are .pdf memos, like this one, that arrive by e-mail (usually, as you might expect, on Sunday).

And they are also featured each week in the “Recent Announcements” section at the top of your Canvas “Home Page” and in your “Announcements” folder (where Canvas keeps all of the past Announcements).

REM: Links on screenshots are not “hot” (active)

When the semester starts the links on the memos will be “hot” (active) and they will take you to more detailed information.

It’s fine for you to select the items that interest you most from each of the “Sunday Memos” (including this one).

You do not have to read them from beginning to end.

They start with links that take you directly to the part(s) that you might be interested in.

Your “Sunday Memos” look like this . . .

The screenshot shows a website for the University of Minnesota. At the top, it says "UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA" and lists contact information for the Duluth Campus, including the Department of Studies in Justice, Culture, and Social Change. There is a small image of a book cover with the text "Direct Links to Canvas" and an arrow pointing to it. Below this, there are several links: "Available on-line in your Canvas folder at", "Canvas Module", "Module Pre-Term", and "AE Simple Syllabus URL .pdf URL". There is also a photo of a man in a red jacket standing in front of a sign that says "TIMHOTEL TOUR EIFFEL". Below the photo, it says "Tim Rouff at the TimHotel Tour Eiffel, Paris". The main heading is "Greetings!". Below this is a navigation menu with links: "1.0 What's Happening?", "2.0 Video Explorations", "3.0 Slides", "4.0 Textbooks", "5.0 Other Assignments", "6.0 *Exams", "7.0 Project", "8.0 Discussion", "9.0 (optional) For Fun Trivia", "10.0 (optional) Extra Credit", "11.0 (optional) Other", "The Canvas Course Management System", "Canvas Modules", "Questions / Comments", and "Live Chat Tuesday 7:00-8:00 p.m.". There are also some notes about "Items DUE this week" and "upload file". A red arrow points to the "1.0 What's Happening?" link.

Anthropology of Europe Greetings, p. 2

Happy Boxing Day!
a very important holiday in England and the rest of the UK

Welcome to Anthropology 3635

Anthropology of Europe

This will be a great course, and a great experience.
You will see. . . .

1.0 What’s Happening?

Please read this to the end. Reading it will save you a lot of time and trouble in the long run.

About the Anthropology of Europe course . . .

Some people like to procrastinate. Others like to arrive early to a party, and in some ways those folks are “pre-crastinators”.

Classes officially start on Wednesday, the 10th of January 2024.

I am sending this note out early to make it more convenient for the pre-crastinators to order the textbook on-line (if that is an attractive option for you), and / or to let you get started reading some of the interesting materials that we have for the class (if you are the kind of person who likes to do that sort of thing).

Or you might want to start watching one or other of the internationally-award-winning films and videos that we have lined up for the class.

If neither of these options applies to you, and you just feel like a little more

Canvas “Modules”

To access Your Canvas Modules . . .

...and that will take you to your Modules folder . . .

If you like a clean-looking page . . .

click on the “Collapse All” button in the upper right-hand corner of your Modules folder to de-clutter your screen.

That will make your life much easier.
(Trust me.)

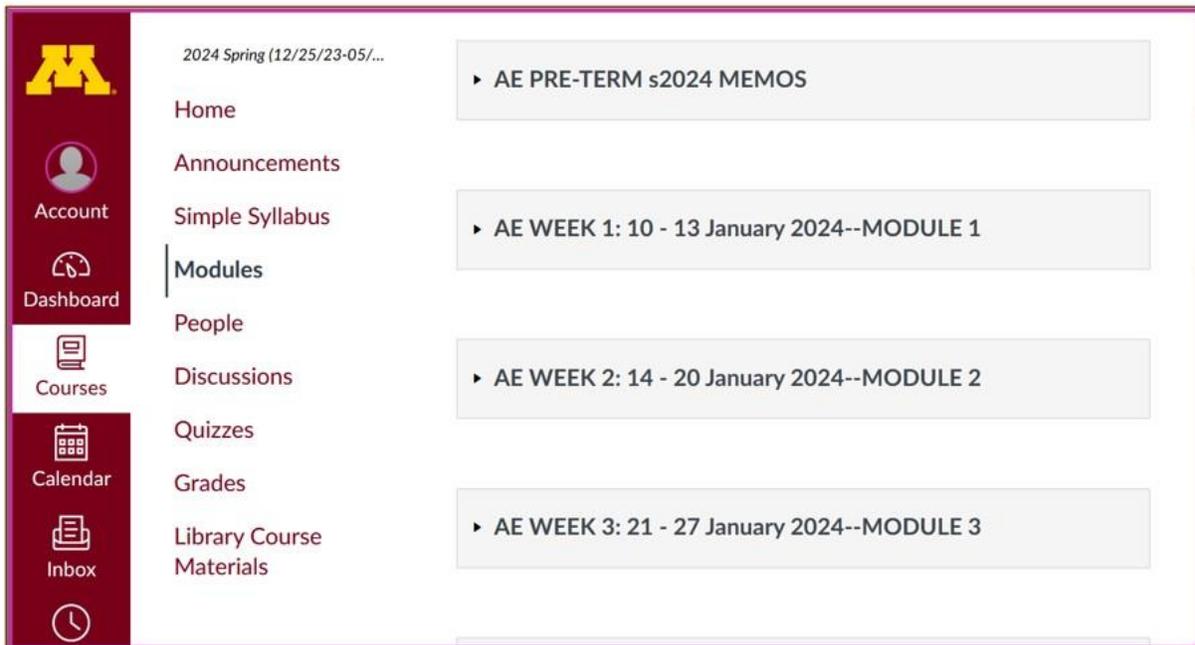

(Sorry; Canvas does not permit instructors to set the default to open with all modules closed.)

REM: Links on screenshots are not “hot” (active)

Your de-cluttered Canvas “Modules” folder will then look something like this . . . :

Then open the Module of the week
that you want to look at . . . :

VOILA!

Your open Canvas Week’s Modules will look something like this . . .

(The first two weeks there is always a lot of information;
after that it’s not so bad.)

Canvas “Modules” vs. “Sunday Memos”

Both the Canvas Modules and the “Sunday Memos” . . . contain the basic information, but the “Sunday Memos” have more detail, some background, some studying suggestions, and, generally, some good images.

You will see.

Both the Canvas Modules and the “Sunday Memos” . . . follow the same basic outline.

All of the weeks will follow an outline like this . . .
