Peoples and Cultures of Europe Week 9

“Ireland / Belgium”

“How the Myth was Made” / Morris Levy

Welcome back to Spring Semester. I hope you had a grand Spring Break.

This week it's time to sign up for your class presentation (see below).

This week we start off by taking a short break from Ireland to visit Belgium with Morris Levy, Associate Professor, Biomechanics, Health, Physical Education and Recreation. (Prof. Levy was originally scheduled for Thursday). Morris grew up in Belgium, and returns there regularly to visit friends and family, to do research, and to teach. He'll give us an overview of his motherland, talk about changes he's seen over the years, and answer your questions. From year to year, Morris continues to be one of the most popular “events” of the semester. Be sure not to miss him.

On Thursday we'll continue having a look at Ireland, focusing on “How the Myth was Made”—visiting along the way with the folks on the Aran Islands to see what they think of Robert Flaherty's Man of Aran.

Man of Aran created lasting images and formulated the insular people of Ireland as a popular myth. What do the people of the Aran Islands think about that? We'll see.

Week 10 we'll return to Ireland to visit Inish Óirr (aka Inish Beag), the smallest of the three Aran Islands. We'll visit the knitters of the famous “Irish Fisherman Sweaters”, and have a look around the island, and “the mainland”, before we say Slán agat and head out to sunny Italy.

Our course developer, has prepared an on-line survey of the class.

Please help us by filling it out honestly, and promptly. Your views are very important in the future development of this course.

Take the Student Survey:

We greatly appreciate your participation in the course survey. If you didn't fill the Student Survey out yet, please do that (with the "Activities" for Week 8)

Share your ideas with others. It's always a good idea to share your ideas with others. You can discuss them on-line with the others in class. And you should do that.

A major part of this course is your research project—not just for the points, but because researching a topic you are interested in and presenting your findings to others, and then writing the results up as a formal paper, is one of the best ways to learn things. (Lectures, as it turns out, research suggests, are one of the worst ways—keeping in mind that one must separate “learning” from the “perception of learning.”) So this week be sure to spend some time working on your Paper and Presentation. (Remember that your Presentation is a “work in progress” report on your paper.)

If I can be of help with your project, please let me know.

Sign up for your Class Presentation Time

(See Week 9 Activities).

(Sign up for one time slot selected from the following days)

(Right now there are enough time slots for everyone to sign up. Do not wait until the last minute, or until after the Presentation Sessions have gone by, and then argue that you cannot give your presentation because there is not a time available.)
