General Comments for the Week

Something's fishy this week. And this week we'll see how, in In Organics We Trust and in our discussion on American Indian and Alaskan Native fishing and whaling rights.

And it's time to see the fruits of your research labors, and to see what you have in store for the final exam.

Your Term Paper and your Question for the Final Exam are due this week

And we'll have one more look at those debates that have puzzled folks for at least two thousand years—as they pertain to food.

Dessert this week is chocolate, more specifically the European Union “Chocolate Wars” that lasted decades.

As always Live Chat is at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, a handy time to ask questions about your Term Paper and the Final Exam. But if that time is not convenient, e-mail. . . .

As I mentioned last week and throughout the semester a major part of this course is your research project—not just for the points, but because researching a topic you are interested in, and presenting your findings to others, and then writing the results up as a formal paper, is one of the best ways to learn things, and it gives you valuable practice for presenting your ideas and arguments.

Discussion Topic

“American Indian Fishing and Whaling Rights, and Inuit Seal-Trading Rights”

For Fun Food Trivia for the Week . . .

“How many pounds of anchovies does it take to produce one pound of fish-farmed salmon?”

Course Survey

(from IT)

The friendly folks from Information Technology Systems & Services will be sending you an Invitation and a Reminder to Participate in an online Course Evaluation.

Evaluations are important to me, the Department Head, and the Dean, as well as everyone in our Department.

Please fill the online Course Evaluation out carefully.

Evaluations are anonymous, and will not be seen by the instructor until final grades for this course have been recorded.

Thanks,

Tim Roufs

If you have any questions or comments right now, please do not hesitate to post them on the  canvas “Discussions”, or e-mail troufs@d.umn.edu, or ZOOM <https://umn.zoom.us/my/troufs>  (E-mail is fastest, and most generally best as quite often URLs need be sent.)

Best Wishes,

Tim Roufs
