“Sunday Memos”

The “Sunday Memos” are .pdf memos, like this one, that arrive by e-mail (usually, as you might expect, on Sunday).

And they are also featured each week in the “Recent Announcements” section at the top of your Canvas “Home Page” and in your “Announcements” folder (where Canvas keeps all of the past Announcements).

REM: Links on screenshots are not “hot” (active)

When the semester starts the links on the memos will be “hot” (active) and they will take you to more detailed information.

It’s fine for you to select the items that interest you most from each of the “Sunday Memos” (including this one).

You do not have to read them from beginning to end.

They start with links that take you directly to the part(s) that you might be interested in.

Your “Sunday Memos” look like this . . .

The screenshot shows a Canvas page for the University of Minnesota. At the top, it displays the university name and contact information for the Duluth Campus, Department of Studies in Justice, Culture, & Social Change. Below this, there are three book covers: 'Eating Culture', 'Omnivore's Dilemma', and 'The Language of Food'. A blue arrow points to these books with the text 'Direct Links to Canvas'. Below the books, there are three links: 'Canvas Modules', 'Module Pre-Term', and 'AF Simple Syllabus'. A photo of Tim Ruff inspecting durians in a Singapore market is shown with the caption 'Tim Ruff inspecting Durian in Singapore Market, 2017'. The main heading is 'Greetings!'. Below this, there is a grid of links: '1.0 What's Happening?', '2.0 Video Explorations', '3.0 Slides', '4.0 Textbooks', '5.0 Other Assignments', '6.0 *Exams', '7.0 Project', '8.0 Discussion', '9.0 (optional) For Fun Trivia', '10.0 (optional) Extra Credit', '11.0 (optional) Other'. A red arrow points to '1.0 What's Happening?'. Below the grid, there are links for 'The Canvas Course Management System', 'Canvas Modules', and 'Questions / Comments'. A red arrow points down from the bottom of the screenshot.

Anthropology of Food Greetings, p. 2

Happy Boxing Day!
a very important holiday in England and the rest of the UK

Welcome to Anthropology 3888
Anthropology of Food

This will be a great course, and a great experience.
You will see. . . .

1.0 What’s Happening?

Please read this to the end. Reading it will save you a lot of time and trouble in the long run.

About the Anthropology of food course . . .

Some people like to procrastinate. Others like to arrive early to a party, and in some ways those folks are “pre-crastinators”.

Class officially starts on Wednesday, 10 January 2024.

I am sending this note out early to make it more convenient for you pre-crastinators to order the textbooks on-line (if that is an attractive option for you), and / or to let you get started reading some of the interesting materials that we have for the class (if you are the kind of person who likes to do that sort of thing).

Or you might want to start watching one or other of the international-award-winning films and videos that we have lined up for the class.

If neither of these options applies to you, and you just feel like a little more

Canvas “Modules”

Access Your Canvas Modules here . . .

REM: Links on screenshots are not “hot” (active)

...and that will take you to your Modules folder . . .

If you like a clean-looking page . . .

click on the “Collapse All” button in the upper right-hand corner of your Modules folder to de-clutter your screen.

That will make your life much easier.
(Trust me.)

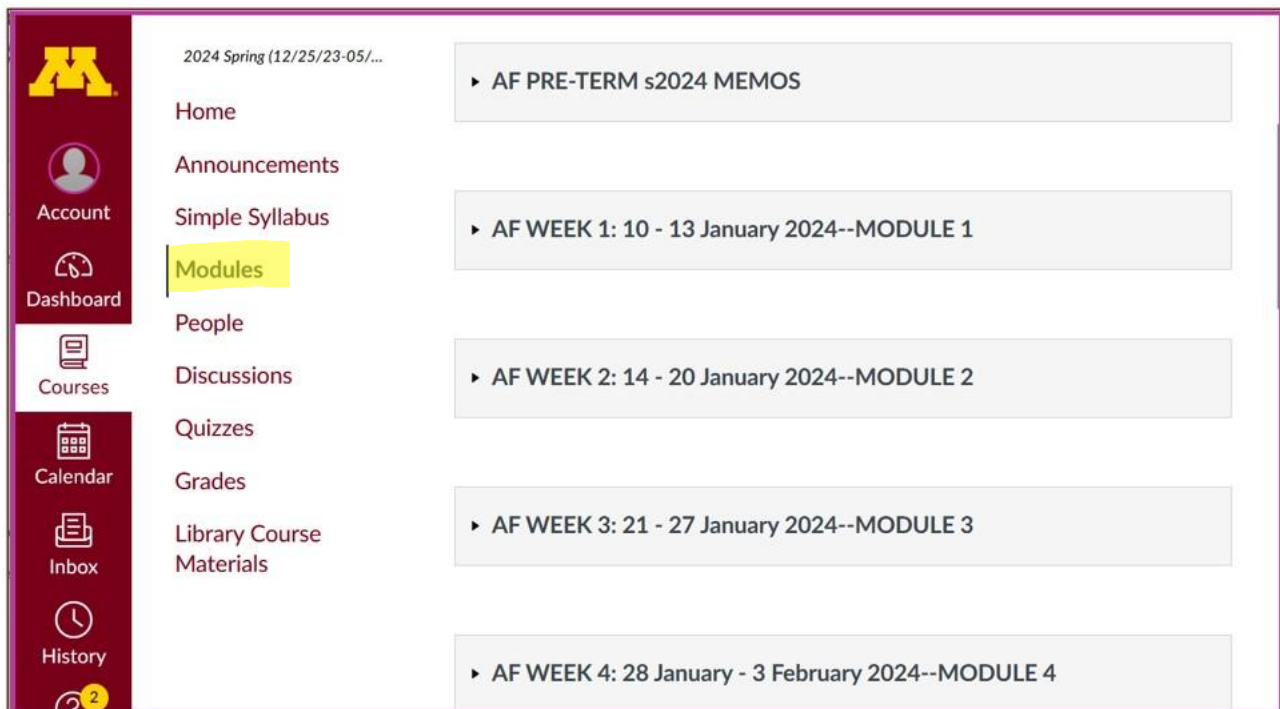

(Sorry; Canvas does not permit instructors to set the default to open with all modules closed.)

Your de-cluttered Canvas “Modules” folder will then look something like this . . . :

Then open the Module of the week that you want to look at . . . :

VOILA!

Your open Canvas Week’s Modules will look something like this . . .

(The first two weeks there is always a lot of information.
After that, it’s not so bad.)

Canvas “Modules” vs. “Sunday Memos”

Both the Canvas Modules and the “Sunday Memos” . . . contain the basic information, but the “Sunday Memos” have more detail, some background, some studying suggestions, and, generally, some good images.

You will see.

Both the Canvas Modules and the “Sunday Memos” . . . follow the same basic outline.
