

HONORING THE EARTH SÁMI WOMEN

6 pm, Thursday, June 30, 2011
-UMD Library Rotunda-

Unique folktales from the ancient Arctic storytelling tradition with Stina Fagertun and Anita Barth-Jorgensen from Tromso, Norway, above the Arctic Circle. Children welcome!

SÁMI ARTS AND STORIES FOR CHILDREN

An Art Education workshop
hosted by Alison Aune

10 am - 12 noon

Friday, July 1, 2011

Humanities 331

Nordic snacks provided

Storytelling 10 - 11 am

Art workshop 11 am - Noon

RSVP to Alison at 218-726-6216 or aaune@d.umn.edu

The Thursday presentation will include song, dance and short talk about similarities between Sámi people of Norway and American Indians in Minnesota.

Jim Vileta from the UMD Library will showcase the Library's new bibliography and collection of Sámi materials.

Sponsored by the Commission on Women, The American Indian Studies Department, the Anishinabi Club, The American Indian Learning Resource Center, the Center for Indigenous Knowledge Revitalization, the School of Fine Arts and the UMD Library.

For more information:
www.d.umn.edu/homepage/11/sami.html,
218-726-6216, aaune@d.umn.edu or 726-8996